ABOUT US

PYRAMIDAL Productions

Pyramidal Productions, a dynamic and innovative film production company co-founded by partners Menkhu Ara Maat and Greg Doby Jr. Together, they are bringing forth a groundbreaking documentary titled "Lead Between the Rhymes," which explores the untold story of Madison Hip-Hop and the remarkable musical accomplishments of artists in Wisconsin. As passionate filmmakers, Menkhu Ara Maat and Doby Jr. have united their talents and shared vision to shed light on the rich and vibrant Hip-Hop culture thriving in Wisconsin. With their extensive experience and profound understanding of the music industry, they are determined to uncover the hidden narratives and celebrate the immense talent within the local Hip-Hop scene.

EXECUTIVE Team

DIRECTOR: Menkhu Ara Maat

Menkhu Ara's dedication and expertise in the field have garnered recognition, making him the recipient of the prestigious Outstanding Program Achievement Award. His profound impact on Hip-Hop education has been felt throughout the Madison school district, where he has organized transformative youth programs in the majority of its fifty-two schools. Armed with a master's degree in Entertainment and Media Business, Menkhu Ara Maat brings a wealth of knowledge and a deep passion for youth empowerment to the project.

PRODUCER: Greg Doby Jr.

Doby's talents have been sought after by independent and major record companies, including Universal Music Group, G-Unit/Interscope Records, Sony, Warner-Timberlane, Kedar Entertainment, and iMG Recordings. His creative prowess extends beyond music production as he has also owned a successful media and marketing company called Unidec Media. Through Unidec Media, Doby has masterfully crafted visual-media content and executed impactful marketing campaigns for both corporate and local business clients.

DOCUMENTARY OVERVIEW

Wisconsin is a state known for its Dairy Farming, Cheese curds, Breweries and Monotony Culture. However, there is a part of its culture that often goes unnoticed – the thriving hip-hop community that has been making waves in the music industry for decades. 'Lead Between the Rhymes' is a documentary that explores the untold story of Midwest hip-hop and the incredible accomplishments of the artists who have made their mark in the Wisconsin music scene. From pioneering rap groups to platinum producers, this film delves into the stories of those who have defied the odds and carved out a place for themselves in the competitive world of hip-hop. Join us as we uncover the rich history and unparalleled talent that has made Madison and Wisconsin a force to be reckoned with in the world of music.

Documentary Objectives

- Celebrate Artists Achievement: Highlight the talent and accomplishments of Madison's Hip-hop artists, shedding light on their journeys, struggles, and triumphs.
- Cultural Preservation: Document and preserve the history and cultural significance of Madison's Hip-hop scene, ensuring its legacy for future generations.
- Promote Diversity and Inclusion: Emphasize the diverse voices and perspectives within the local music community, fostering a sense of unity and inclusivity.
- Inspire and Educate: Inspire viewers by showcasing the transformative power of music and its ability to transcend boundaries, ignite social change, and foster community connections.

"Lead Between the Rhymes" is a groundbreaking documentary series that will take viewers on an immersive journey into the rich and multifaceted hip-hop culture of Madison and Wisconsin. With an unwavering commitment to authenticity and depth, this series uncovers a tapestry of elements and aspects, shining a spotlight on the talented artists, the infectious music, the electrifying dancers, and the captivating visual arts.

But this docuseries doesn't stop there. It delves deeper, revealing the profound impact that hip-hop has had on education, particularly within the esteemed halls of the University of Wisconsin. By shining a spotlight on the collaborations, programs, and initiatives that have sprung from this fusion, the series highlights the transformative power of hip-hop as a force for empowerment, creativity, and social change.

THE PROCESS

In the creation of our groundbreaking documentary series "Lead Between the Rhymes," we are dedicated to capturing the essence and untold stories of Madison Hip-hop in a captivating and authentic way. Our filming process involves a meticulous approach that allows us to delve deep into the vibrant and diverse world of the local hip-hop scene. Here's an overview of the steps we will undertake to bring this project to life:

1	Research and Pre-production
2	Artists' Stories and Interviews
3	Behind-the-Scenes Access:
4	Historical Context and Local Culture
5	Cinematic Storytelling
6	Post-production and Editing

- Research and Pre-production: Our team, led by award-winning youth culture specialist Menkhu Ara Maat and renowned platinum producer Greg Doby Jr., begins with extensive research and interviews. We delve into the history, evolution, and key figures of Wisconsin's hip-hop community. This groundwork helps us identify the influential artists, compelling narratives, and significant events that will shape our documentary.
- Artists' Stories and Interviews: We engage with a diverse range of artists, both established and emerging, to capture their stories and experiences firsthand. Through in-depth interviews, we give artists the platform to share their personal journeys, creative processes, and the impact of their music on the local and global stage. These interviews are conducted in an intimate setting that fosters trust, openness, and authenticity.
- Behind-the-Scenes Access: We believe in providing an immersive experience for our audience, allowing them to go behind the scenes and witness the creative process of artists. Our cameras will be there during studio sessions, rehearsals, and collaborations, capturing the magic as it unfolds. This exclusive access gives viewers a deeper understanding of the dedication, talent, and collaboration that go into the creation of Madison's hip-hop music.
- Historical Context and Local Culture: To provide a comprehensive understanding of Wisconsin's hip-hop scene, we explore its roots and the socio-cultural context that shaped it. Through interviews with key community figures, music historians, and experts, we weave together a narrative that celebrates the fusion of art, activism, and cultural identity. This broader perspective helps viewers appreciate the significance of Madison's hip-hop within the larger social landscape.
- Cinematic Storytelling: Our skilled production team utilizes a range of cinematic techniques, including visually stunning cinematography, compelling editing, and immersive sound design. We aim to create a visually captivating and emotionally engaging documentary that resonates with viewers on multiple levels. Our goal is to transport the audience into the world of Wisconsin Hip-hop, evoking emotions and fostering a deep connection with the music and its makers.
- Post-production and Editing: After capturing an extensive array of footage, we meticulously sift through the material to craft a cohesive and impactful narrative. Our talented editing team weaves together interviews, performances, and storytelling elements, incorporating visual and auditory elements that enhance the overall experience. We pay meticulous attention to detail, ensuring that the final product accurately reflects the essence and significance of Wisconsin hip-hop.

HISTORIC & PIONEERING INTERVIEWS

Hip hop first emerged in Madison, WI in the early 1980s, with the formation of local rap groups and breakdance crews. Over the years, the city's hip-hop scene has grown and evolved, with a wide range of artists and styles emerging from the community.

One of the earliest and most influential figures in Madison hip hop was rap group Fresh Force, who began making tracks in the early 80's and has since influenced some of the biggest names in the industry.

Meet Kali Tribe, the first hip-hop group from Milwaukee to appear on BET and founded by Speech, who launched the group Arrested Development. The rap group consisted of four members: King Kamonzi; Lando Land, Prince Ulami and "The Pharaoh" Twan Mack.

Soul Patrol was a pioneering breakdance crew to emerge from Madison, Wisconsin who quickly became legendary in the early 80's and the go-to group for anyone looking for authentic hip-hop entertainment.

Jarius King known to many as "ManOfGod" or "King Genius/GNS" is a performing artist, professional breakdancer, instructor, and international DJ. Jarius is former UW-Madison student and co-founder for the International Urban Movement breakdance conference.

HIP-HOP AND EDUCATION INFLUENCERS

The University of Wisconsin (UW) has played a significant role in shaping the local community and fostering a deep connection with hip-hop culture. Through its innovative educational programs and initiatives, UW has empowered countless individuals to explore their creative talents and make a lasting impact on the hip-hop scene in the region.

Dr. Gloria Ladson-Billings is a trailblazing scholar and UW professor who has made significant contributions to the field of education, known for her groundbreaking work on culturally relevant pedagogy and her exploration of the intersections between education and hip-hop culture.

Willie Ney is a remarkable social activist and educator who has played a pivotal role in shaping the hip-hop landscape of education in Wisconsin. Founder of the groundbreaking UW First Wave arts initiative, Willie has nurtured a generation of artists who have gone on to make significant contributions to the hip-hop community.

Dr. Roberto Rivera, Ph. D is a prominent artist, public speaker, educator, and community leader who has used hip-hop as a powerful tool for social change, empowering marginalized communities and fostering dialogue on important social issues. He is also Founder of the Hip-hop Revival Festival and Director of the Alliance for the 7th Generation.

UW First Wave is a groundbreaking Hip-hop arts initiative based at the University of Wisconsin- that has revolutionized the way hip-hop is understood and embraced within academia. Founded in 2007, it is the first university program of its kind, offering full scholarships to exceptional young artists who exhibit talent in the realms of spoken word, poetry, rap, dance, and multimedia performance.
